Cnr Parry and Adelaide Streets, Fremantle

12th CONCERT SEASON 2012

2012 will see Pipe Organ Plus present five delightful Sunday afternoon concerts between March and November. Spanning nearly 500 years, you will revel in a breadth of music ranging from the Renaissance grandeur of Nicolas Brumel's soaring "Earthquake" Mass for 12-part choir, to the power and spectacle of major organ works from Romantic virtuosos Franz Liszt and Louis Vierne, whose music features throughout the year. Delicate nuances of Claude Debussy and Gabriel Fauré contrast with the driving rhythms of Western Australian composer Cathie Travers.

Paul Wright, violin, and Noeleen Wright, violoncello, mark their return in a predominantly Romantic programme culminating in the stirring Suite by Joseph Rheinberger, whilst saxophonist Matthew Styles and piano accordionist Cathie Travers present a repeat performance of heart<BEAT> written specifically for this ensemble, alongside an imaginative arrangement of Debussy's Children's Corner Suite.

Directed by Nicholas Bannan, The Winthrop Singers of the University of Western Australia (resident choir at St George's College), make their Pipe Organ Plus debut in Terræ, a concert in which the movements from Brumel's Mass for choir will alternate with Vierne's 6th Organ Symphony. Surround sound with a difference!

Due to public demand Dominic Perissinotto again presents two solo organ concerts. Passion takes listeners through Christ's life culminating in His death and Resurrection at Easter. Remembrance concludes 2012 with a special performance dedicated to those who have lost their lives at war.

Join in this musical celebration with some of the finest performers in WA, in the glorious surroundings of Fremantle's historic Basilica.
